

The editors announce:

JGPOH – The new online Journal of Global, Public and One Health (jpgoh.com)

JGPOH - ISSN: 2942-5123 is an open access, peer reviewed journal. It started with the first contributions end of 2023. All articles are distributed under the terms of the Creative Commons Attribution License CC BY-NC-ND 4.0 SEE: jpgoh.com.

JGPOH follows an interdisciplinary and international orientation. The journal welcomes contributions on the global health sciences, population health, public health and the health services, as well as papers on planetary and One Health, submitted by practitioners and researchers from all over the world. Especially welcome is quantitative and qualitative research examining upstream determinants and implications for health politics. This requires an inter-disciplinary, inter-sectoral, and inter-professional approach.

JGPOH accepts - after strict review and checks for plagiarism - original research, reviews of literature, case studies, short reports, viewpoints, and if appropriate also other formats. Thanks to a donation, for the time being publication in JGPOH is free of charge. The language of JGPOH is English. Translations into French, German, Italian, or Spanish may be published in addition.

JGPOH accepts submissions per email. Send your paper to the Executive Editor Prof. Genc Burazeri MD, PhD:
